Ever been to Galleries Night at Alserkal Avenue? If so, the confusion of which gallery to visit amidst the hustle-bustle of people wandering from gallery to gallery is real. With such a buzzing art scene and an entire district devoted to art, knowing where you can find a good representation of contemporary artists (regional and international) does get a bit overwhelming. Thankfully, we've done the work for you. After scouring almost every gallery in the city, Savoir Flair takes you through the ones you absolutely must visit.

1

Opera Art Gallery

DIFC

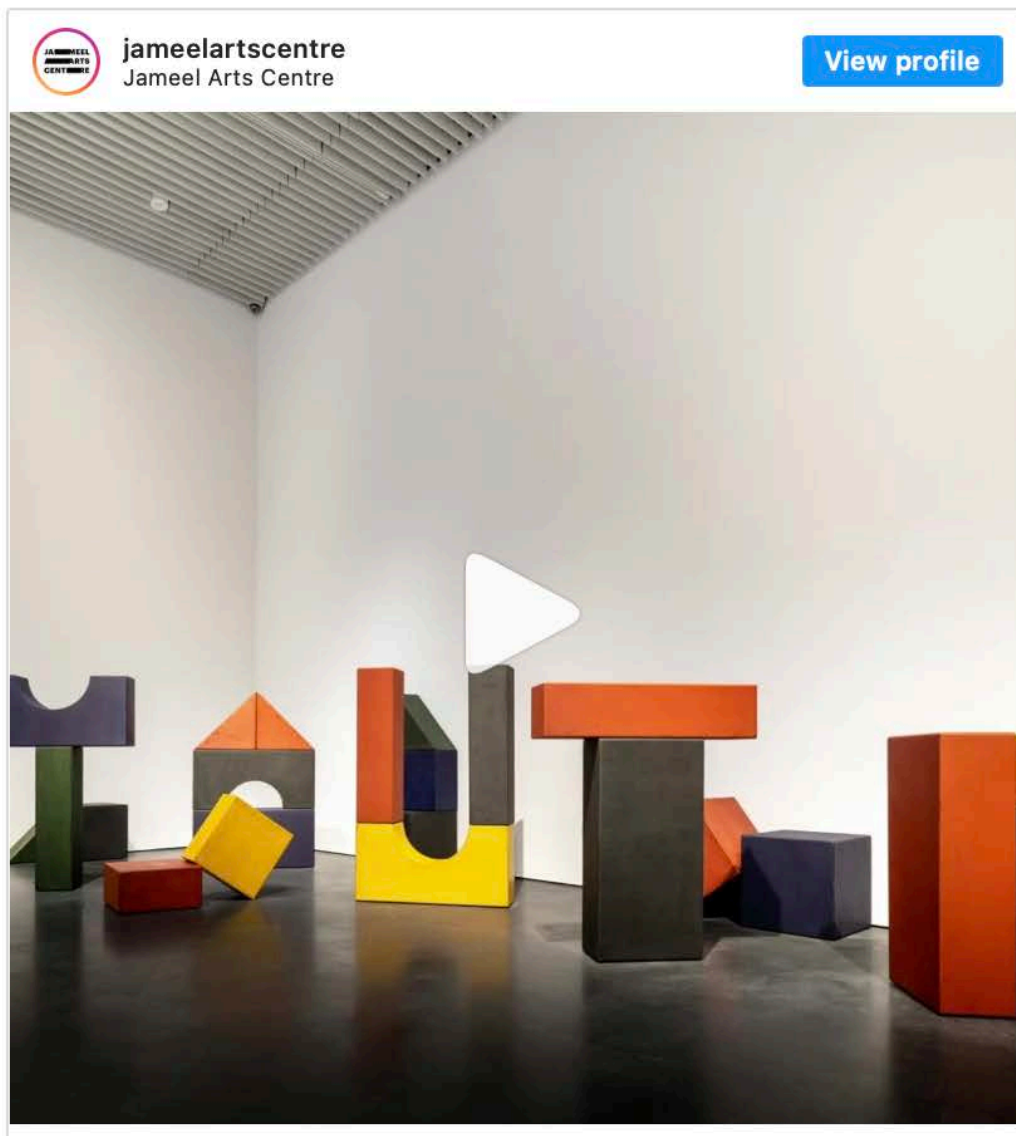

An international gallery dedicated to contemporary and modern art, one glimpse at the space, and you'll know why Opera Gallery tops our list of best art galleries in Dubai. With branches in major cities around the world like Monaco, New York, and Hong Kong, to name a few. Since its inception in Paris in 1994, the gallery has offered collectors access to some of the finest selection of modern and contemporary artists through curated exhibitions in all its locations. Located in DIFC, the current display features the works of the renowned Seo Young-Deok, who's known for his realistic and life-sized sculptures made from welded chains.

Jameel Arts Center

Jaddaf Waterfront

One of the leading institutions in contemporary art, Jameel Arts Center is dedicated to exhibiting the works of emerging and well-known artists, along with engaging communities through learning and research. The center presents various projects and commissions in addition to curated solo and group exhibitions, drawn both from the Art Jameel Collection and through collaborations. Aside from showcasing artwork, the center also hosts various talks to create an engaging dialogue between creatives on how to contribute towards a sustainable arts scene both in the UAE and through its global network.

Firetti Contemporary

Alserkal Avenue

Known for its thought-provoking exhibits, the most recent one being 'Praxis of Change', Firetti Contemporary is a multidisciplinary art space bringing together regional and international artists. Here you can find a curation of artwork that encourages the importance of individuality while establishing collective alignment. If you're visiting, then we highly recommend the current exhibit, which views art through ecological glasses: How the environment is represented within images and sculptures as well as how the role of humans on Earth is depicted. One of our favorite pieces is by Lebanese artist Charbel Samuel Aoun. Titled 'Earth to Ashes', the artist uses bamboo, pine needles, stones, glass, and wood to portray the relationship between humans and the Earth.
